1. Circumference above the bust. (Measured under the arms, across the shoulder blades).
2. Chest circumference.*
3. Circumference below the bust.
4. Waist circumference.
5. Hip circumference at the widest point.
6. Bust height. (Measured from the top of the shoulder to the nipple).
7. Back length. (We tie a tape around the waist and measure from the 7th cervical vertebra to the waistline, where the tape is located).
8. Shoulder width.
9. Back width.
10. Sleeve length.
11. Arm circumference. (Measured at the widest point).
12. Wrist circumference.
13. Side length. (Measured from the waist to the floor).

Please remember that the measuring tape should be wrapped around our bust and run horizontally. We should not place it higher or lower on the back than on the front of the bust. Such measurement can alter the size by even a few centimeters. It is best to measure the bust circumference precisely through the nipples, and the tape should be applied perfectly horizontally. When measuring, always remember to measure snugly, not only for the bust circumference but for all measurements. We do not add any extra space or squeeze ourselves with the tape. Everything should be simply fitted, just as our size appears. Measurements are taken in centimeters.
